UNIVERSITY OFFERS
SATURDAY ART CLASSES
FOR PRESCHOOLERS, STUDENTS

MISSOULA--

Classes will be offered this spring at the University of Montana under the Saturday art enrichment program entitled "Operation Discovery" for three- and four-year-old preschoolers and primary and secondary school students.

The classes will begin April 8 and run for eight weeks through May 29. They will be held each Saturday from 9:30-11:30 a.m. in the UM Fine Arts Building. A fee of $4 will be charged for the entire eight weeks or 50 cents per session.

Classes will be offered in drawing and painting, printmaking, sculpture, ceramics, photography and related areas of macrame and stitchery. Two special sections will include advanced techniques and an area relating art, music, dance, drama and creative writing. The preschool youngsters will be in a special section.

A special section will be offered for those parents interested in participating with their children in creative arts activities.

Richard B. Reinholtz, associate professor of art at UM, is director of the program. Preregistration can be completed by phoning the art department office at UM, 243-4181.
